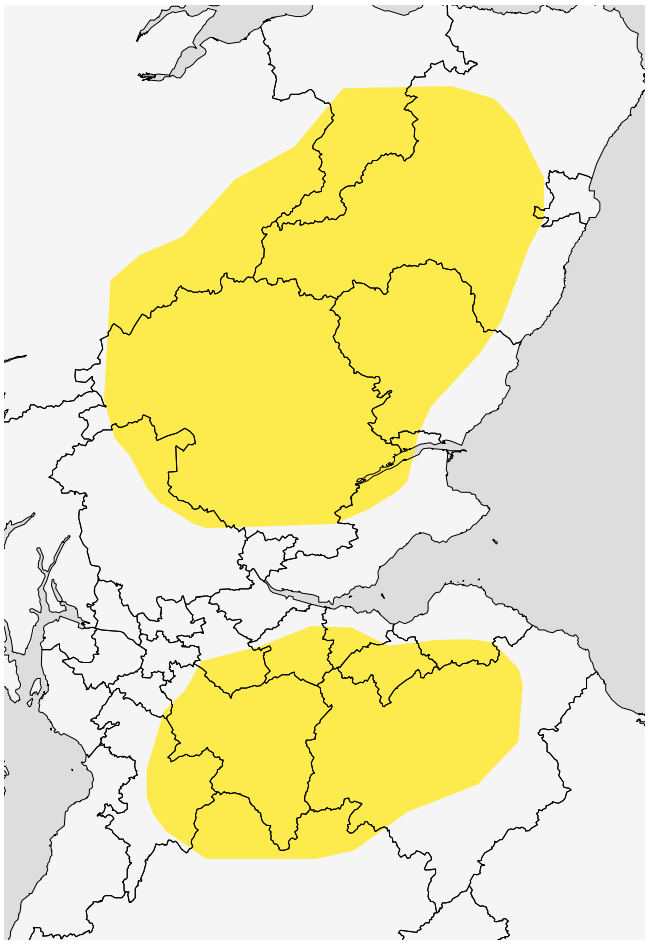
Yellow warning
Snow

Between
03:00 Fri 4 Dec 2020 and
12:00 Fri 4 Dec 2020



Snow is likely to bring a brief period of travel disruption to parts of Scotland on Friday morning.

What to expect

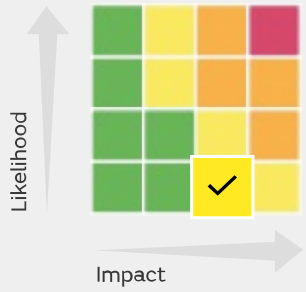
- There is a chance of travel delays on higher routes with some stranded vehicles and passengers.
- Increased chance of traffic collisions due to difficult driving conditions.

Further details

Snow is expected to arrive from the east overnight Thursday into Friday.

Early on Friday morning, this may briefly settle across areas as low as 100 m above sea level, although through the morning the accumulating snow level is likely to rise to 500 m and above as milder air arrives from the east. Snow will then turn to persistent and at times heavy rain at lower levels.

2-5 cm of snow is possible above 150 m, with transient sleet/snow at lower elevations.



Very low likelihood of medium impacts
